

Welcome to the sixth issue of the Invest Salone newsletter.

In this issue, we share Invest Salone's new downloadable Investment Toolkit for SMEs in Sierra Leone, which provides support to help firms prepare for impact investment.

Stories on the fashion and textiles sector look at how the comeback of Sierra Leone's traditional textiles is driving growth and how we are supporting Sierra Leonean designers to tap into growing global interest in African fashion.

This quarter we also launched our Made in Salone series – showcasing the benefits of local manufacturing and production in Sierra Leone through short videos of local firms across various sectors, including agribusiness, fashion, and textiles.

The new Invest Salone opinion piece series contributes to the conversation on Sierra Leone's business environment through the local media. In our first two op-eds, David Bathalomew discusses the importance of a collective business voice to drive economic development; and Team Leader Chukwu Emeka Chikezie sets out a seven-point strategy for achieving inclusive private sector development in Sierra Leone.

Our new Technical Assistance Facility (TAF) overview infographic explores how the TAF helps Sierra Leonean firms tackle constraints to growth and exports. And our latest Insights article on tourism in Sierra Leone provides a
